

Letting passengers onboard aircraft talk on cell phones would lead into various altercations..people talking loud, distruping others while they try and sleep or work. It is that people don't have respect for others let alone flight crews. It would be a tragedy..that is why we have phone onboard that they can talk on if need be..